

The Friends of the Claremont Library's
On the Same Page committee presents

This Is How It Is For Us

Panel Discussion

Saturday, February 24, 2024

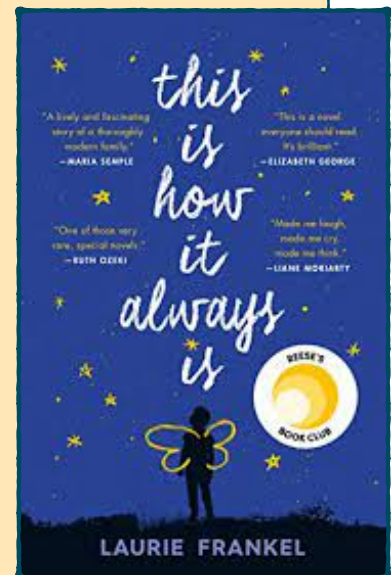

10 am

Claremont Helen Renwick Library Meeting Room
208 N. Harvard Ave, Claremont

We have created a panel of people whose lives have been affected by the very issues that have made our book so important. Our panel will consist of Elizabeth Moore who will speak about how her family accepted, and then embraced, her 20 year old granddaughter's identity, and the challenges she continues to face.

And we welcome our FOCL board secretary, Annie Gebhardt and her partner Erin Talvitie. They have been together for 22 years. After the first 16, Erin began questioning her gender, and together they made the transition, and remain happily together.

They will talk about real experiences as our trans children grow up and create their lives, and connect and expand their observations with those presented by Laurie Frankel in her book This Is How It Always Is.

Books are available for checkout and for purchase ($15.00)
at the library.

*Note: Laurie Frankel is coming to Claremont to speak
Saturday, March 16 at 1:00 PM
at the Padua Room of the Hughes Center*

This is a book that is made for discussion.

Perfect for friends
to read together.
